

MATERIAL MARKET UPDATE

The DSEX registered a modest gain of 11 points (0.24%) during the month of February, with a sharp rise circa mid-month that eventually lost steam. The prime index opened the month on a positive note but soon entered the red zone from the 3rd trading session as investor pessimism grew and set off panic sell-offs on selective large cap stocks amidst news of GP's operational issues. The DSEX consequently tumbled 121 points (-2.69%) between the 3rd and 7th trading day of the month. The core index however turned the corner into the 8th trading session, adding 383 points (8.72%) within 5 trading days, as the central bank announced it would allow banks to form a BDT 2 bn fund to mobilize the main bourse and ADB approved USD 170 mn (its 2nd installment) for Bangladesh's capital market development. The 5-day winning streak eventually collapsed as optimism did not sustain and the formal instruction from the central bank to implement single digit interest rates jointly hammered the DSEX in the last 6 trading sessions, causing the market to shed 278 points (-5.84%). Market liquidity (average daily turnover) experienced a significant growth of 69.35% compared to the previous month.

Remittance growth slowed down in January, posting a mere gain of 2.58%, but exhibited a healthy growth of 21.8% in the first 7 months of the FY, riding on the 2% cash incentive. Non-food inflation reached a 49-month high of 6.3%, but overall point-to-point inflation subsided by 18 bps. Exports continued its sluggish trend in January with a -1.7% growth compared to the same period last year. While the government has been taking various initiatives such as a 15% cash incentive against rice export to both boost and diversify exports, there are many headwinds ahead. Bangladesh is faced with the risk of supply chain disruption as more than one fifth of its imports originating from China, the epicenter of the coronavirus outbreak. This was evident in the 21% decline in import volume from China in the first one and half months of 2020. The RMG industry is to receive the largest blow as it is highly dependent on China for its raw materials, which will ultimately hurt export earnings further. Meanwhile, the banking sector outlook remains bleak as banks continue to camouflage their NPLs by exploiting the rescheduling policy and another new bank has received approval from the central bank, further adding to the woes of the sector.

LR GLOBAL PORTFOLIO UPDATE

Our portfolio is UNDERWEIGHT in all sectors compared to the benchmark index, except the pharmaceuticals, telecommunication, mutual funds, and tannery sector. We are currently maintaining a high proportion of cash as it is generating a better return compared to the market itself. Moreover, we are also well positioned to buy undervalued securities when appropriate.

Sectorwise Investment

Sectoral Composition of Portfolio at Market Value

We are taking selective positions in well-capitalized and focused companies and also evaluating discounted and transparent mutual funds to gain exposure. We primarily booked profits from few stocks and intend to buy back at more attractive prices.

CAPITAL MARKET UPDATE

The DSEX registered a slight gain of 11 points (0.24%) during the period amidst a highly volatile environment.

The Paper & Print sector enjoyed the highest gain due to the price hike of HAKKANIPUL while the Jute and Food & Allied sectors were hit hard as a result of investors' reaction to NORTHERN and BATBC's EPS decline.

The stability and strong fundamentals of the pharmaceutical sector alongside cheap industrial and textile stocks drove investors to continue to binge on the stocks in these sectors.

Monthly Sector Return

Sector Contribution to Total Turnover

The P/E ratio of majority sectors increased minimally with the overall market, but stocks still remain at attractive prices.

Sector P/E Valuation

Market liquidity improved substantially in February and had a similar trend as the previous month. The first 7 trading sessions had a moderate liquidity with an average daily turnover (ADTV) of USD 49 mn. Subsequently, the market picked up pace and almost doubled in the next 10 sessions but the momentum was eventually choked by investor pessimism.

Market Liquidity

	This Month	Last Month	Change
Total Turnover (USD MN)	1,465.37	951.80	53.96%
Avg. Daily Turnover (USD MN)	73.27	43.26	69.35%

LHBL remained investors' favorite pick while GP was also heavily traded as investors continued to be wary about the financial impact of GP's payment of BTRC's claim.

HAKKANIPUL enjoyed the highest gain despite having a negative EPS while the price of 5 pharma companies also soared albeit reporting negative EPS growth.

Most of the top ten losers that lost significant value during the month also reported an EPS decline or a negative EPS, which sent investors on a selling spree.

NOTABLE YEARLY EARNINGS & DIVIDEND DECLARATIONS DURING THE MONTH

BATBC registered negative growth during the year due to an overall decline in local cigarette stick revenue and increased tax rates. However, while the first two quarters had negative earnings growth, it bounced back in the last two quarters due to material increase in export volume and some improvement in local cigarette sales. SINGERBD's dividend yield has become more attractive at ~4.62%.
